

Dentons partner represents seller in $42.02 million deal

June 25, 2018

Atlanta —Dentons' partner Amanda K. Leech served as legal advisor to Crawford & Company, the world's largest publicly listed independent provider of claims management solutions to insurance companies and self-insured entities, in the $42.02 million sale of Garden City Group, LLC (GCG) to Epiq, a global provider of legal services.

Leech helped to navigate the sale of GCG, Crawford & Companies' legal administrative services unit, so that Crawford can focus on its core services of providing global claims solutions. As part of the agreement Leech helped to secure, Epiq will continue to provide ancillary support service to Crawford in support of its claims operations.

Leech focuses her practice on general corporate counseling of both privately held and public companies. She has experience advising clients on mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, joint ventures and strategic alliances. Her transactional work spans a number of industries, including media, entertainment, technology, manufacturing and defense.

Leech earned her JD from Emory University School of Law, with honors and her BS from the University of Alabama, magna cum laude.
