

Dentons welcomes Angela Shaffer to the Banking and Finance group in Toronto

July 18, 2019

Dentons is pleased to announce that Angela Shaffer has joined its Toronto office as Counsel in the Firm's Banking and Finance group.

A senior and experienced financial services regulatory lawyer, Angela regularly advises financial institutions and their boards of directors on issues relating to banking and insurance regulatory matters, corporate governance, compliance, risk management, anti-money laundering, transactions, securities, corporate and commercial law.

"Angela's depth of banking regulatory experience brings a different perspective that will further enrich the exceptional service we can provide our clients," said Blair McCreadie, Managing Partner of Dentons' Toronto office. "Her extensive senior in-house experience in the banking regulatory, compliance and privacy in the financial services sector will further strengthen our team, and provide value-added strategic legal advice to our financial institution and fintech clients. Angela's diverse skill set and knowledge will also compliment our existing practices in data management and governance, payments and open banking."

Over the course of her career, Angela has held a number of senior executive and in-house roles, including General Counsel, Chief Privacy Officer and Chief Compliance Officer, giving her a unique perspective on the challenges and risks faced by Canadian financial institutions and insurance companies.

"With Angela's arrival, we are further expanding our depth in the banking regulatory space," said McCreadie. "We are pleased to welcome Angela to our growing Dentons team, as part of the leading global law firm in the Toronto market."

Angela received her Bachelor of Laws from University of Windsor, and was called to the Ontario Bar in 1983.
