This is a great honor for Tim because only a single lawyer in each practice specialty and metropolitan area is honored as the "Lawyer of the Year," making this accolade particularly significant. "Lawyers of the Year" selections are based upon particularly impressive voting averages received during the peer review assessments. This isn't the first time Tim has been named a "Lawyer of the Year": He earned this recognition in 2012 and 2016 for Nonprofit/Charities Law; in 2017 for Trademark Law; and in 2019 for Copyright Law.

In addition to the "Lawyer of the Year" award, Tim was also listed in the 2021 edition of The Best Lawyers in America® in Copyright Law (for which he has been recognized every year since 2014); Nonprofit/Charities Law (every year since 2008); and Trademark Law (every year since 2014).

Tim's practice includes the formation of exempt organizations, the IRS exemption process, and exempt organization operational issues. Additionally, as the head of Sirote's Intellectual Property Department, Tim counsels clients in the complex areas of federal and state trademark registration, the licensing of trademark rights, and the protection of trademarks against infringement, including domain name and internet-related disputes. He also counsels clients on copyright registration, protection, and licensing, as well as software licensing. Tim advises clients on franchise disclosure compliance and franchisor/franchisee disputes.

Other 2021 "Lawyers of the Year" from Sirote include Greg Carwie in Litigation - Trusts and Estates in Mobile, Lenora Pate in Health Care Law in Birmingham, and Brad Sklar in Business Organizations (including LLCs and Partnerships) in Birmingham.
