

Dentons launches Global Bid Challenge Tracker to enable quick comparison of bid challenge laws across multiple jurisdictions

March 25, 2021

Dentons has launched an interactive tool that puts key aspects of global bid challenge laws at the users' fingertips, allowing for quick, customizable comparisons across multiple jurisdictions.

Leveraging Dentons' global platform and award-winning commitment to technological innovation, the Firm launched this innovative, free platform to allow corporate leaders to create customized user-friendly comparisons of the laws.

Selecting from a list of 23 jurisdictions, with plans to expand, users can quickly learn about, compare and contrast laws from up to three countries, across a list of 21 key points, including:

- What is the scope of the bid challenge agency/tribunal's jurisdiction?
- Who has standing to file a challenge?
- What are the time limits for filing a challenge?
- How long does the process take?
- What must a complainant establish in order to succeed?
- Are hearings public and can documents be filed confidentially?
- What relief can the agency/tribunal award?
- Can the decision of the agency/tribunal be appealed and how?

The results of each individual search can easily be shared by email or on social media, and include the appropriate Dentons contact for follow-up support. The tool is also available for smartphone use.

Anticipating client need and creating value-added, practical tools for clients were the drivers behind the development of the user-friendly, online platform.
