

New York Law Journal honors partner Chris Errico as a Rising Star

DENTONS

August 21, 2023

The New York Law Journal selected Dentons partner Chris Errico as a Rising Star. Errico was honored as an emerging leader in New York's legal community.

Errico is a member of the Firm's Venture Technology and Emerging Growth Companies practice. He regularly leads a broad array of domestic, offshore and cross-border transactions on behalf of venture capital and private equity funds, as well as other institutional investors and capital market participants. Throughout the course of his career, he has had responsibility for structuring and negotiating more than US$15 billion in public and private financing transactions, for both companies and investors. In addition to his practice, Errico serves as co-chair of Dentons' Strategic Management Task Force to help clients and colleagues navigate new strategic risks in the banking sector stemming from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's intervention with Silicon Valley Bank and Signature Bank.
