

Overview

With the national regulator ushering in a new credit-rationing regime in the Australian financial industry, major financial institutions face lower margins, higher costs and reduced revenue.

In this challenging landscape, rely on our understanding of the changed environment and ability to manage transactions in an efficient and cost-effective manner.

You have the backing of a banking team ranked amongst the best in the Asia Pacific. Major players in the local and international finance industry value our responsiveness and quality of advice.

For cross-border transactions, rely on our ability to follow your customers into any region through the seamless support of our global team located around the world, including the major financial centers of London, New York, Hong Kong and Singapore. This team regularly facilitates trade and receivable financing, project and infrastructure financing, and agribusiness finance.

Foreign lenders value our support in furthering their business in Australia through our comprehensive advice on local lending regulations, including loan structuring, security and tax requirements, and our particular capabilities in handling real property facility transactions.

More broadly, in championing sensible regulation, our team has driven a number of important regulatory changes to remove unnecessary burdens faced by clients.

Whether you seek transactional, regulatory or adversarial advice, work with a team that delivers clear analysis and solutions focused on the opportunities available in a risk-averse setting.
