

Overview

When your ship comes in, let Dentons help you navigate the waters.

The development, acquisition, disposition, management and use arrangements for marinas can be extremely exciting ventures, but they also present challenges that require specialized knowledge. Whether your project involves incorporation of a marina into an overall master planned development, management of a marina or simply negotiating slip arrangements, our Hotels team is experienced and equipped to guide the way.

Take advantage of Dentons' extensive knowledge of the unique areas of law affecting marinas and the important business issues that can affect a marina's incorporation or use within a larger development. Our lawyers have handled marina management agreements, slip arrangements, licensing requirements, and the unique diligence involved in the purchase of marinas.

Whatever your maritime needs may be, let us provide safe harbor in uncharted waters.
