

Overview

We are a preeminent insurance team of litigation, regulatory and transactional counsel with unmatched global reach. Our over 100 dedicated US insurance practitioners have been providing market leading representation to the industry for more than 80 years. Over the years, we have developed strong relationships with regulators at the various state Departments of Insurance, the NAIC, members of the legislature and senior staff at various offices of attorneys general.

Dentons understands the business of insurance. Former insurance regulators, Attorneys General and insurance industry leaders are amongst our lawyers, as well as seasoned litigators and counselors. Our team represents clients across all lines of insurance and has the ability to draw upon experienced lawyers from different practices around the world to deliver unmatched client service and delivery.

Chambers, The Legal 500 and U.S. News - Best Law Firms have, year-after-year, recognized Dentons' preeminence in insurance, calling us “a team of ‘strong practitioners who are involved in lots of major matters and have a strong commitment to insurance.’”
