

Overview

The life sciences and healthcare field is defined by numerous features: strong growth, constant innovation, long-term cycles of development, increasing international competition and complex financing. All of them require personalized and adapted solutions, with advice that is goal-oriented and cost-effective.

Dentons' Life Sciences and Healthcare group in Europe understands the scientific and economic tools and data necessary to provide you with effective legal guidance on complex issues. You can rely on our carefully selected teams of specialists who have many years of involvement in the life sciences and healthcare industries.

Our lawyers have a wealth of experience and are recognized leading legal advisors to health practitioners and businesses, including to organizations with business interests in the life sciences and health and pharmaceuticals sector. We advise you on the complete range of services and considerations, including:

- Competition
- Corporate and commercial law
- Dispute resolution and arbitration
- Distribution
- Employment law
- Intellectual property and patent advice
- Regulatory law
- M&A
- Tax

It is crucial for your business to find relevant and solid legal advice to optimize the return on your investments and achieve your business goals—whether your business is a public or private player, a medical or biological institution, a manufacturer, distributor or a service provider in the life sciences and health care sector, you face a wide array of multifaceted challenges.

Our teams offer tailored assistance and in-depth knowledge of relevant products and activities, and we provide quick responses to urgent situations. We can also structure complex licensing, distribution, co-promotion, development and manufacturing agreements to help you keep your projects moving, while mitigating risks.

When it comes to life sciences and healthcare law and advice throughout Europe, look no further than Dentons.

Your Key Contacts

Europe

Jean-Marc Groperrin

Partner, Paris

D+33 1 42 68 92 03

jeanmarc.groperrin@dentons.com

Peter Homberg

Partner, Berlin

D+49 30 26473 399

peter.homberg@dentons.com

Pascale Poupelin

Senior Counsel, Paris

D+33 1 42 68 48 27

pascale.poupelin@dentons.com