

Overview

One of the key value drivers of every buyout transaction is incentivizing the buyout team and management of a portfolio company in the right way. In a primary or secondary transaction, initial investment or roll over, you want to work with a partner that brings in-depth experience in creating equity participations or sweat equity models for buyout situations. Whether you are the institutional investor or part of the management team, Dentons' lawyers will give you the integrated legal and tax advice you need to be successful, wherever you are in the process.

Our corporate and tax teams, together with our labor law teams, provide strategic, practical advice when it comes to management contracts, bonus schemes, ratchet mechanisms, stock option plans, equity participations or other management incentive schemes that make the most sense for your unique situation.

With experience in hundreds of transactions, Dentons' lawyers are perfectly positioned to provide you with the right advice to help you structure your incentive schemes to get the best possible result.
