

Overview

Business today is global, and so is Dentons. Our Arbitration team comprises seasoned litigators who represent clients in both domestic and international arbitrations. With presence throughout the United States, as part of a firm with offices in more than 50 countries, our Arbitration team also understands the complexities of cross-border disputes and the issues that can arise when transactions become contentious between parties with different business cultures and languages. In all cases, our goal is the same: to achieve a timely, favorable and binding resolution.

Dentons is recognized by Global Arbitration Review as one of the top international arbitration firms in the world. Our lawyers have a proven track record of successfully representing our clients in a broad array of commercial and construction disputes.

Turn to us for representation on any matter before the leading international arbitral institutions, including:

- The American Arbitration Association and its International Centre for Dispute Resolution (ICDR)
- The International Chamber of Commerce (ICC)
- The London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA)
- The Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre (HKIA)
- The International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID)
- Ad hoc proceedings conducted in accordance with the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL) Arbitration Rules

In addition, many of our lawyers have been appointed as arbitrators by these institutions, or have served as party appointed arbitrators. This experience provides invaluable knowledge and perspective on the deliberation process engaged in by tribunals.

We also have significant experience enforcing arbitral awards both in the United States and abroad. Our team is fully familiar with the significant arbitration treaties, including the New York Convention, the Panama Convention and the ICSID Convention, and we advise on disputes governed by bilateral investment treaties (BITs).

Your Key Contacts

United States

John J. Hay
Partner, New York
D+1 212 398 5233
john.hay@dentons.com