

Capital Markets in Russia, CIS and the Caucasus

Overview

To win engagements, you need to stay on the cutting edge. Whether you're an underwriter, issuer or investor, you require a trusted advisor with a forward-thinking vision—one who sees the value of investing today to maintain capabilities and market share.

You will have the support of one of the first international law firms to operate in Russia, CIS and the Caucasus markets—who leads the way in understanding the often challenging legal frameworks and business cultures in these regions.

Through strong relationships with regulatory and exchange bodies, our lawyers work with you to navigate the specific requirements of multiple jurisdictions through our offices in Russia, Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan and Azerbaijan. Should you find that you need advice in a CIS country in which we do not have offices, rest assured that we enjoy close working relationships with leading local law firms.

Together with multilingual lawyers in major financial markets such as New York, London, Frankfurt, Hong Kong, and Paris, our lawyers advise global and domestic banks, insurance companies, securities dealers, shareholders and venture capitalists, as well as private equity, on all aspects of raising finance on international capital markets.

Draw on the experience of our multinational lawyers in:

- Debt capital markets
- Equity capital markets
- Derivatives
- Regulatory issues

You can rely on our recognized depth of global and domestic know-how and a breadth of representation backed by solid working relationships with regional firms and local and federal governments. We will help you realise your ambitions while assuring compliance with often complex regulatory requirements.
