

Overview

Good corporate governance promotes investor confidence, improves organizational performance and minimizes the possibility of damaging media coverage.

Our corporate governance team is experienced in guiding boards, board committees, chief executive officers and senior management on their duties and responsibilities as leaders of private, public or not-for-profit entities.

From putting in place a governance framework to reviewing your existing framework, our team can draw up organizational policies, codes of conduct, board committee structures, and disclosure and reporting requirements that will strengthen the direction and performance of your company.

Ongoing, we can act as a sounding board on the framework's implementation, its performance against benchmarks, and as an advisor on any changes in the regulatory environment. When sensitive internal issues arise, we can act as investigators on behalf of the board, management or individual stakeholders.

Many of our partners serve, or have served, on boards of some of the most important companies in Bolivia. In providing support, we draw on this practical experience to strengthen your business, build value and improve the effectiveness of your operations.

With our global platform, we have access to world class governance thinking, practice and performance.
