

Overview

Dentons' Global Employment and Labor lawyers frequently advise clients regarding the myriad of issues arising in partnership and close corporation matters. We provide the parties we represent with valuable legal and business advice. When disputes emerge, we have the broad base of experience applicable to procedural and substantive laws to litigate or arbitrate efficiently and to a successful conclusion.

Because of the unique interrelationships at the forefront of closely held corporation and partnership disputes, clients often call on us to assist with urgent, highly sensitive decisions. In turn, we draw on our wealth of experience to assist our clients with these critical matters. We collaborate with our colleagues who specialize in corporate, executive compensation and benefits, and tax matters, to cost-effectively handle every aspect of the problem and advance your interests.

Some of the key issues which arise in close corporation and partnership disputes include:

- Fiduciary duties
- Change in control agreements
- Buy/Sell agreements
- Corporate governance
- Deferred compensation
- Employment agreements
- Employment laws
- Indemnification issues
- Restrictive covenant enforcement
- Separation arrangements
- Securities laws and accounting rules
- Share schemes and equity incentives
- Supplemental retirement plans
- Tax laws