

Overview

Whether large or small, unionized or nonunionized, an organization's workforce is one of its most vital and complex elements. To manage the myriad issues it presents, you need an experienced and highly regarded legal partner. Recognized as a leading firm in labor and employment law in Bolivia, our team is involved in the field's most complex and sensitive advisory work, and we are particularly well known for handling complex employment litigation matters.

Protecting your business is our primary concern. Let our seasoned team help you formulate policies and procedures governing matters such as:

- Day to day labor matters
- Occupational health and safety
- Employment benefits
- Sickness and disability
- Labor compliance
- Workplace policies and handbooks and training
- Cross-border labor and employment advice and counsel
- Employment due diligence for M&A transactions
- Employment litigation
- Managements-side labor relations and union negotiations
- Executive and variable compensation
- Individual, collective and senior management terminations

Members of our group appear regularly before courts, administrative boards and tribunals at every level, and act as spokespeople in collective bargaining, representing local and foreign employers in litigation and administrative proceedings before Bolivia's labor courts and government agencies.

Our immigration services include advising on the hiring of foreign staff by local and foreign entities active in Bolivia, including obtaining visas and permits, drawing up employment contracts and assisting with compliance issues related to labor and immigration laws.
