

Overview

As an organization your success and reputation relies heavily upon the performance of your workforce and the effective management of workplace and employment issues.

True business leaders set the tone with best practice employment policies, procedures and training, all of which reduce risk and increase productivity, retention, brand-value and profile in the marketplace.

Turn to our Port Moresby team for customized, effective advice on employment and labor matters specific to the Papua New Guinea market. Protecting your business is our primary concern. Let our seasoned team help you formulate policies and procedures addressing the issues that affect your business and projects.

When an issue arises, you can be confident in our swift and practical approach. Our experience in conducting investigations into complaints within your workplace help to lead to a quick resolution. The quicker you deal with the complaint, the more likely the outcome will be positive for you and your employee. We are particularly experienced in conducting investigations into complaints within your workplace.

Our areas of experience include:

- General employment and corporate compliance
- Employment contracts
- Workplace health and safety
- Enterprise bargaining
- Industrial relations
- Discrimination and diversity
- Employment litigation
- Workplace investigations
- Workplace training.

Be supported by a team that is recognized as a leading employment and labor team in PNG, serving a loyal client base of companies in finance, property and construction, telecommunications, transport and logistics, consumer products, and energy and resources.

Whether you are a local or global businesses, we offer global coverage and can provide you with the best legal talent when and where you need it, around the corner or around the world.

Your Key Contacts

Asia Pacific

Stephen Massa

Partner and Head of PNG
Office, Port Moresby
D+675 308 4616

stephen.massa@dentons.com