

Overview

As creators, users and suppliers of original work, you have an enormous amount invested in your products. Choosing the right protection from the different legal remedies available can demand extensive knowledge of different industries. Our Intellectual Property and Technology (IP&T) lawyers understand these requirements and can protect your investment, whether it's a work of art, a new medical device, a company logo or a computer software program.

Rely on us to address your complex legal questions with advice tailored to your business needs. From protecting intellectual property rights, through advising on data security issues, technology licensing and sourcing strategies, you receive practical and informed guidance. We can help you protect and value your IP assets:

- Trademarks and distinctive signs
- Geographic indications
- Designations of origin
- Trade names
- High renown and well-known trademarks
- Trade dress
- Unfair Competition
- Licensing
- Drafting of agreements (licenses, assignment of rights, coexistence agreements and others)
- Search, filing and maintenance of IP rights
- Patents and utility models
- Industrial designs
- Legal due diligence of IP portfolios
- Software protection
- Domain names (Protection, maintenance and dispute resolutions)
- Copyrights and related rights
- Personal image rights
- Publicity rights
- IP transactional due diligence
- Consumer's rights

- Access to genetic resources, traditional knowledge
- Administrative and judicial litigation regarding IP rights
- Alternative Dispute Resolution regarding IP rights

We understand our clients' industries and unique needs. We closely collaborate with Dentons' global Intellectual Property teams as well as with other specialized practice groups within Dentons in order to guarantee the best possible and most economically viable solutions. Practicality and efficiency—based on our team's combined vast experience—enable us to accommodate client demand in the area of IP and related areas of the law.

Your Key Contacts

Latin America and the Caribbean

Jorge Luis Inchauste

Partner, La Paz

D+591 2 2770808

M+591 7 8909779

jorge.inchauste@dentons.com