

Litigation and Dispute Resolution in the United Kingdom

Overview

With more than 100 dispute resolution lawyers based in the UK alone, Dentons offers you a range of dispute resolution techniques, from the timely use of innovative alternative dispute resolution through to managing complex and hard-fought litigation.

Rely on our strong banking litigation team that acts for a wide range of banks and regulatory authorities on often complex, cross-border financial disputes. Benefit also from a dedicated, sizeable team focused on the contentious side of restructuring and insolvencies, which has worked on many of the largest insolvency processes in recent years, working with a wide variety of corporates, accountants and lenders.

Our London practice is home to an extensive international arbitration team that is particularly well known for its capabilities in energy, construction and engineering disputes. The team has broad and deep experience in handling arbitrations in all the established and emerging markets, with particular unrivaled ability in dealing with Africa-related disputes, which is enhanced and complemented by our public international law team adept at assisting in high risk jurisdictions.

In addition to our dedicated dispute resolution team, there are also a number of professionals across different departments in Intellectual Property and Media, Property Litigation and Employment. Our dedicated dispute resolution team in Milton Keynes includes three solicitor advocates and delivers broad commercial litigation and arbitration advice. The London team works closely with colleagues in Milton Keynes; being able to draw on this pool of talent allows greater flexibility and can also be the key to finding cost-effective solutions, whatever the sum in issue.

All of our UK disputes lawyers work as part of a large, integrated global network, able to provide local law advice across North America, Africa, Asia, Europe and the Middle East whilst similarly well-placed to provide workable cross-border solutions on multijurisdictional matters when they arise.

Pricing

Click here for pricing on debt recovery work with a value of up to £100,000

Your Key Contacts

United Kingdom

Liz Tout
Partner, London
D+44 20 7320 6851
liz.tout@dentons.com