

Overview

For multinational clients, the impact of public law can be dramatic. Dentons offers a unique blend of knowledge and experience in all aspects of public law, on constitutional principles as well as administrative proceedings.

The rule of law within states and among nations has significant implications for transactions, trade and regulation. Whether your business involves a state or province's internal operations, relations with individuals and other states or regions, or the full array of planning, permitting, regulation and enforcement of national laws, Dentons offers substantial experience in advising on matters of public law.

You need a team that has experience in the public sector. Our team of professionals has served as treaty negotiators, senior government officials and experienced regulatory specialists. We are equipped to advise businesses operating at a global crossroads on international trade and commerce, the law of armed conflict, and international human rights law.
