

Overview

Your company's initial public offering (IPO) is a transformational event in its growth, whether it has a history of operations or is a start-up venture. Partner with Dentons to optimize this financing opportunity. We understand the IPO process and use our experience and relationships to assist our clients across a full range of industry sectors in choosing the most appropriate course of action to achieve their financing objectives.

We work very closely with your team to help maximize the early life of the business as a public company and position it for long-term growth, including successful follow-on public financings. We apply our comprehensive knowledge of the latest legal, regulatory and commercial trends in the ever-shifting economic and political environment that affects your business.

Our lawyers are practiced and proficient in the art of managing your public offering through narrow financing windows, while providing innovative solutions to obstacles that could otherwise derail the financing. The protection and enhancement of your legal interests is always our overriding concern. Whether your listing is on one exchange or several, Dentons brings to your team our long-standing working history with securities and stock exchange regulators, and our close relationships with investment firms and business leaders locally and globally, to make the most of your IPO.
