

Securities and Corporate Finance in the United Kingdom

Overview

Securities and corporate finance transactions are never easy and you know that in today's challenging, complex and fast-moving market conditions, sourcing capital for business of all sizes requires particularly careful thought. You can rely on the UK team at Dentons to work with underwriters, issuers, borrowers and lenders, investors and regulators to deliver the innovative and practical guidance you need on securities transactions, regulation, corporate finance and the capital markets.

We advise global and national banks, insurance companies, securities dealers, shareholders, private equity firms and major corporations, and we maintain strong relationships with regulators and exchanges, not just in London but around the world. Our lawyers work on many of the most complex and innovative deals in the market, advising on a growing number of mandates and increasingly helping clients to deal with tricky multijurisdictional issues in order to get transactions done.

Particularly well known for our emerging markets and cross-border work, we leverage our international presence for our clients, providing the extensive local insights and experience needed to work with global, national and emerging businesses. We can help you tap investor appetite and sources of capital wherever necessary; as a top ten global firm we have experienced lawyers working in all the world's largest financial centers and active on all the major exchanges,

Our clients draw on our experience in tax, intellectual property, competition, real estate, employment and pensions to execute their chosen corporate financing strategies on time and with minimum disruption to their day-to-day operations.

Our clients benefit from our renowned expertise with public and private offerings of debt and equity securities; compliance with securities laws and disclosures; filing requirements of stock exchanges around the world; and dealings with oversight bodies. Our UK practice is globally recognized for its standout capabilities and experience in Islamic finance and sovereign debt issuance, working closely with our lawyers and offices in the Middle East and Africa.
