

Overview

In a region as diverse and rapidly developing as Central Asia, the demand for integrated, commercial tax-saving solutions is very strong. You will benefit from a seamless, multi-jurisdictional tax advisory service with 20 years experience advising on all aspects of local and international legislation and practice in the Central Asia market.

Our team will help you respond to the unique business challenges in this region by working to substantially reduce your tax risks and optimizing your business structures and help you navigate negotiations with local and national fiscal authorities. Feel confidently represented during litigation or an out-of-court dispute resolution proceeding with our team of senior tax litigators experienced in complex tax controversies.

You can rely on our deep understanding of the Central Asia market—its languages, customs, culture and legislation— to support all your business needs successfully in this region.

Turn to Dentons' tax team for advice on:

- International taxation
- Tax structuring
- Transfer pricing
- Subsoil user taxation (including as part of tax stability procedures and production-sharing agreements)
- Corporate taxation
- Indirect taxation
- Employee taxation
- Personal taxation

Your Key Contacts

Central Asia

James E. Hogan
Office Managing Partner,
Baku
D +994 12 4 90 75 65
james.hogan@dentons.com

Kanat Skakov
Partner, Almaty
D +7 727 258 2380
kanat.skakov@dentons.com