

Overview

In the complex world of tax, the role of Dentons' UK tax practice is simple: to serve as an extension of our clients' businesses. Our value comes from seeing a business as its leaders do and collaborating with our clients every step of the way. Together with you, we develop and implement plans based on your commercial needs and aspirations; plans that pro-actively identify creative, integrated, commercial tax-saving solutions.

Our UK tax practice is a cross-border, multi-jurisdictional group that seamlessly mixes local knowledge with the right resources in order for the organizations with whom we work to stay nimble and robust.

When your business engages Dentons for tax services, you get access to an inter-disciplinary team that understands how tax law meshes with other areas of the law. As our client you can draw from a focused group of individuals with years of experience in their industry. Dentons in the UK maintains a pre-eminent reputation as go-to tax advisers for clients investing into and out of emerging markets, particularly the Middle East, Africa and the CIS. We act for blue-chip, big-name clients across the media and telecoms, energy, financial services, insurance and retail sectors, to name but a few.

We advise on issues for ultra high net-worth individuals and private companies, for multi-national enterprises, listed companies, partnerships, funds and others.

Tax has a material impact on any business, and with the global regulatory environment currently shifting and evolving and public awareness of taxation reaching unprecedented levels, having a solid adviser on hand has never been so critical.
