

Aviation and Aerospace

This complex industry ranges from aviation and aerospace service companies to airlines, charter companies, private operators, manufacturers, aircraft leasing companies and other financial institutions, airports, and governmental agencies. It's an industry where you want specialists with aviation expertise, access to an experienced multijurisdictional team, and experts on the ground in the places you do business.

Dentons' lawyers know the aviation industry. We combine global expertise with local knowledge in many areas, including:

- Asset-based financing
- Joint ventures and mergers and acquisitions
- Manufacturing, selling, purchasing and leasing aircraft and equipment
- Local and international regulatory regimes and treaties
- Navigation issues
- Insurance and risk management
- Litigation and dispute resolution
- Commercial and government contracts
- Intellectual property
- Aviation claims
- Disaster preparation and response (crisis management)

Working together, you get all the skills our lawyers have developed representing leading airlines, manufacturers, aviation service providers, airport developers, lessors, financiers, insurers and regulatory bodies. So wherever you fit within the aviation industry, Dentons can help.
