

Project Development in the Aviation and Aerospace Sector in United States

Aviation and Aerospace

This complex industry ranges from aviation and aerospace service companies to airlines, charter companies, private operators, manufacturers, aircraft leasing companies and other financial institutions, airports, and governmental agencies. It's an industry where you want specialists with aviation expertise, access to an experienced multijurisdictional team, and experts on the ground in the places you do business.

Dentons' lawyers know the aviation industry. We combine global expertise with local knowledge in many areas, including:

- Asset-based financing
- Joint ventures and mergers and acquisitions
- Manufacturing, selling, purchasing and leasing aircraft and equipment
- Local and international regulatory regimes and treaties
- Navigation issues
- Insurance and risk management
- Litigation and dispute resolution
- Commercial and government contracts
- Intellectual property
- Aviation claims
- Disaster preparation and response (crisis management)

Working together, you get all the skills our lawyers have developed representing leading airlines, manufacturers, aviation service providers, airport developers, lessors, financiers, insurers and regulatory bodies. So wherever you fit within the aviation industry, Dentons can help.

Project Development

From design through completion, project development is a complex convergence of interested parties, logistics, regulatory framework, and complicated, interlocking contractual structures. With a team of lawyers that knows how to navigate every stage of the development process, we'll always keep your best interests in mind.

Whether you're a project manager, investor or have another interest in a project's development, our team of specialized lawyers and professionals works closely with you on a full range of issues, including:

- Planning
- Securing permits
- Procurement
- Site option control
- Financing
- Documentation

Dentons' in-depth knowledge of your industry's sector allows us to develop, negotiate and draft inventive solutions, tailored for your needs and identify, at the project's early stages, critical milestones and potential risks.

Drawing on considerable experience in various sectors such as energy, natural resources, life sciences and mixed-use development, our lawyers and professionals see your industry as you do. Our team supports every step of your project, collaborating with other parties and stakeholders—installers, designers, technical advisors, local communities and others—on the path to successful results.
