

Energy in the Government Sector in Russia, CIS and the Caucasus

Energy

Volatile oil prices and the depletion of traditional hydrocarbon energy sources have made an already competitive industry even more complex. At the same time energy suppliers provide essential public services, and political pressures add another layer of complexity, as governments and regulators seek energy security and demand both price stability and cleaner energy supplies.

In a market that is fast-changing and under pressure from a variety of different directions, you need a firm that is immersed in energy markets and is innovative and agile in driving and achieving your business goals. Dentons gives you that support, with enormous experience across the energy sector and around the world. This includes providing strategic assistance to clients encompassing the entire energy value chain from oil majors, independents, transportation companies, power generators and utilities, financial institutions and large customers. Dentons lawyers work for more than 40 governments on energy-market reform and major project procurement, which adds a depth of perspective rare amongst law firms.

Use Dentons and work with lawyers who understand the energy industry—who see the opportunities within traditional sectors and within new technologies—and who can help shape the business you want. Upstream or downstream, from exploration to marketing, and from generation to retail, Dentons can give you the innovative advice and insight you need globally.

Look to our lawyers for effective solutions across the energy sector including transactions, political services and dispute resolution in:

- Upstream and Downstream Oil and Gas
- Nuclear
- Renewables and Unconventional Energy
- Conventional generation
- Transmission and distribution
- Retail electricity and natural gas supply
- Pipeline and Maritime Transportation
- LNG, Oil and Gas Trading
- Energy market reform
- Privatization of Energy Enterprises

Volatile oil prices and the depletion of traditional hydrocarbon energy sources have made an already competitive industry even more complex. At the same time energy suppliers provide essential public services, and political pressures add another layer of complexity, as governments and regulators seek energy security and demand both price stability and cleaner energy supplies.

In a market that is fast-changing and under pressure from a variety of different directions, you need a firm that is immersed in energy markets and is innovative and agile in driving and achieving your business goals. Dentons gives you that support, with enormous experience across the energy sector and around the world. This includes providing strategic assistance to clients encompassing the entire energy value chain from oil majors, independents, transportation companies, power generators and utilities, financial institutions and large customers. Dentons lawyers work for more than 40 governments on energy-market reform and major project procurement, which adds a depth of perspective rare amongst law firms.

Use Dentons and work with lawyers who understand the energy industry—who see the opportunities within traditional sectors and within new technologies—and who can help shape the business you want. Upstream or downstream, from exploration to marketing, and from generation to retail, Dentons can give you the innovative advice and insight you need globally.

Look to our lawyers for effective solutions across the energy sector including transactions, political services and dispute resolution in:

- Upstream and Downstream Oil and Gas
- Nuclear
- Renewables and Unconventional Energy
- Conventional generation
- Transmission and distribution
- Retail electricity and natural gas supply
- Pipeline and Maritime Transportation
- LNG, Oil and Gas Trading
- Energy market reform
- Privatization of Energy Enterprises

Government

From international trading blocs, through national, regional and municipal administrative bodies, the role of government as policy maker, regulator and market participant has never been greater across the globe. Public and private sectors both need to understand how and why government decisions are made and anticipate the effects of decisions on other parties.

You need a partner with these valuable skills, experts that get the ins and outs of political decision-making around the globe. You need people who understand the needs of central and local governments, as well as regulatory bodies, public sector agencies and not-for-profit organizations. You need Dentons.

Our lawyers and other professionals know how government works. We have served in a variety of governmental roles, as elected representatives, temporary transfers to government departments and staff members working to influence government. We provide insight into public sector management, policy and political trends, and strategic planning and implementation to meet your business goals. You can leverage our experience in representing clients through the global financial crisis, advising on large-scale projects and public private partnerships (P3/PPP/PF2), and drafting landmark legislation. Dentons will help you get business done—across the political spectrum and around the world.

Whether you're a government department or you're partnering with a governmental body entering a market or navigating reform, Dentons can provide counsel and advice to advance your goals, understand regulatory regimes, and meet the ever-changing landscape of the future.

From international trading blocs, through national, regional and municipal administrative bodies, the role of government as policy maker, regulator and market participant has never been greater across the globe. Public and private sectors both need to understand how and why government decisions are made and anticipate the effects of decisions on other parties.

You need a partner with these valuable skills, experts that get the ins and outs of political decision-making around the globe. You need people who understand the needs of central and local governments, as well as regulatory bodies, public sector agencies and not-for-profit organizations. You need Dentons.

Our lawyers and other professionals know how government works. We have served in a variety of governmental roles, as elected representatives, temporary transfers to government departments and staff members working to influence government. We provide insight into public sector management, policy and political trends, and strategic planning and implementation to meet your business goals. You can leverage our experience in representing clients through the global financial crisis, advising on large-scale projects and public private partnerships (P3/PPP/PF2), and drafting landmark legislation. Dentons will help you get business done—across the political spectrum and around the world.

Whether you're a government department or you're partnering with a governmental body entering a market or navigating reform, Dentons can provide counsel and advice to advance your goals, understand regulatory regimes, and meet the ever-changing landscape of the future.

Russia, CIS and the Caucasus

Dentons bridges cultures and markets to deliver a full-service solution across the CIS.

With cross-cultural experience and a transactional track record starting in the 1970s, Dentons offers you one of the most extensive CIS practices. Our offices in Russia, Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, Georgia and Azerbaijan are supported by a team of dedicated multilingual lawyers based in key financial and political centers, including Frankfurt, Berlin, Paris, Brussels, London, New York and Washington. In the CIS countries in which we do not have offices, including Armenia, Belarus, Kyrgyzstan and Moldova we enjoy close working relationships with leading local law firms.

Whether you are a Fortune 500/Global Fortune 100 international company or financial institution, private equity fund, start-up, state-owned company, international financial institution or a not-for-profit organization, Dentons can advise in connection with your business, investments and operations in CIS countries. We also advise fast-growing companies as well as high-net-worth individuals from Russia and other CIS countries in connection with local and cross-border transactions.

To address all your transactional and advisory needs, our practice covers the full range of corporate, tax, banking and finance, real estate, competition, employment, energy, mining, intellectual property, and litigation and arbitration matters.

Dentons can give you a recognized depth of global and domestic expertise and a breadth of representation backed by solid working relationships with regional firms and local and federal governments. Our team's experience spans sectors including automotive, aviation and aerospace, energy, entertainment and sports, financial institutions, forest products and agribusiness, hotels and leisure, infrastructure and PPP, life sciences, luxury, fashion and beauty, media, mining, retail, technology and telecommunications.

Dentons bridges cultures and markets to deliver a full-service solution across the CIS.

With cross-cultural experience and a transactional track record starting in the 1970s, Dentons offers you one of the most extensive CIS practices. Our offices in Russia, Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, Georgia and Azerbaijan are supported by a team of dedicated multilingual lawyers based in key financial and political centers, including Frankfurt, Berlin, Paris, Brussels, London, New York and Washington. In the CIS countries in which we do not have offices, including Armenia, Belarus, Kyrgyzstan and Moldova we enjoy close working relationships with leading local law firms.

Whether you are a Fortune 500/Global Fortune 100 international company or financial institution, private equity fund, start-up, state-owned company, international financial institution or a not-for-profit organization, Dentons can advise in connection with your business, investments and operations in CIS countries. We also advise fast-growing companies as well as high-net-worth individuals from Russia and other CIS countries in connection with local and cross-border transactions.

To address all your transactional and advisory needs, our practice covers the full range of corporate, tax, banking and finance, real estate, competition, employment, energy, mining, intellectual property, and litigation and arbitration matters.

Dentons can give you a recognized depth of global and domestic expertise and a breadth of representation backed by solid working relationships with regional firms and local and federal governments. Our team's experience spans sectors including automotive, aviation and aerospace, energy, entertainment and sports, financial institutions, forest products and agribusiness, hotels and leisure, infrastructure and PPP, life sciences, luxury, fashion and beauty, media, mining, retail, technology and telecommunications.