

Intellectual Property and Technology in the Automotive Sector in Russia, CIS and the Caucasus

Automotive

Times have been changing in the automotive sector. Customers are thinking differently about their priorities and needs. This means that you must be at the forefront of market developments, while at the same time being in a position to benefit from the upturn in sales. To do all this requires a leading legal partner with the depth of knowledge and breadth of relevant experience to meet your needs.

That's where Dentons comes in. We understand the automotive business and have a driving ambition to assist you across every aspect of your company's operations. You benefit from the experience of lawyers who have worked for many years in the industry, as well as lawyers who have in-house experience working for automotive manufacturers or automotive finance companies, giving you the edge when it comes to advice and solutions. Get business-changing help across the globe on everything from greenfield/brownfield projects and land acquisitions, to post-construction labor and regulatory matters; from joint ventures and dealership distribution, to franchising, funding and retail funding for end users.

Look to our lawyers for effective solutions across the automotive sector, including:

Intellectual Property and Technology

Businesses around the globe value intellectual property and technology services. These services allow maximum efficiency for companies, providing their customers with their own unique services. In perpetual motion, players must create innovative products and services to feed constant and escalating market demand. Everyone from the developer to the user has an enormous amount invested in products. In this high-stakes environment, you need protection for your original work. This requires a partner with extensive knowledge of different solutions who can choose the best legal remedy.

Dentons' lawyers understand these requirements and work relentlessly to protect your investment, whether it's a new medical device, company logo or computer software program. Together, we address complex legal questions with advice tailored to your business needs. From protecting intellectual property rights, through advising on data security issues, technology licensing and sourcing strategies, you receive practical and informed guidance.

Our integrated approach to litigation, counseling and transactions is a powerful strategy that delivers optimal results to you. To provide you with seamless service, members of our Intellectual Property and Technology (IP&T) practice frequently team with lawyers from other practice areas. Our enviable track record includes representing individual inventors, artists and entrepreneurs, public institutions, emerging companies, venture capital groups and global corporations.

Protecting your work to the highest caliber drives our efforts to learn about and promote the latest developments in the intellectual property arena. Our IP&T professionals lecture, teach and publish on intellectual property subjects. Additionally, we participate in committees of related organizations.
