

Overview

As one of the largest energy providers in the European Union, opportunities abound in Algeria. But penetrating such a region requires the right partner by your side. Let Dentons' associate office in Algiers, Hadj-Hamou & Djouadi, help you navigate this complex legal environment and achieve your business goals.

The team at Hadj-Hamou & Djouadi has a solid reputation in the business and legal community in Algeria and is particularly highly regarded for their oil and gas expertise. Partner with lawyers who can provide valuable legal and commercial insights having previously worked for major industry players such as Sonatrach, the largest oil and gas company in Algeria and Africa.

In addition to oil and gas expertise, look to Hadj-Hamou & Djouadi for business and legal solutions in the following areas:

- Civil litigation, international arbitration and dispute resolution
- Mergers and acquisitions
- Contracts and deal structuring
- Administrative law
- Banking, finance and securities
- Government regulation
- Bankruptcy and insolvency
- Real estate, commercial property and construction
- Labor law
- Intellectual property, technology and telecommunications
- Project finance
- Taxation
- Privatizations
- Maritime law
