

Vietnam Desk in Singapore

Vietnam has charted a course of rapid economic growth and development over the past 30 years, and is now one of the world's fastest growing economies. With the government's focus on increasing economic stability, emergence of a consumer class, and the shifting landscape in Asia's manufacturing industry, the country has also faced renewed interest from international investors as it becomes increasingly accessible to foreign investments.

Dentons Rodyk has extensive transactional experience in Vietnam in both greenfield and brownfield investment, and we have worked with partner firms in as well as other law firm partners in Vietnam to undertake infrastructure, energy and resources investment projects and general investment work. We have also advised on various corporate matters, including investment structuring, contracting and employment.

Dentons' Nextlaw Referral Network

Rely on us to provide comprehensive legal and support services with our regional and international experience, local connections and industrial knowledge. At Dentons Rodyk, we are well positioned to deliver customized solutions to meet your needs.