

Overview

South Korea is one of the greatest business and financial hubs in Asia-Pacific area. In particular, it is leading the future of high-tech industries on the global stage such as IT and semiconductors. Its capital city, Seoul is considered to be a place full of nimbleness and dynamism that rapidly changes itself to adapt ever changing market conditions.

As one of South Korea's law firm with a long tradition, our practice has continuously grown and expanded to meet the evolving needs of our domestic and international clients. Dentons Lee (formerly, Lee International law office) offers a full range of legal services applicable to modern international business, including advice and representation in

- Finance
- Real Estate
- M&A
- General Corporate
- Antitrust and Fair Trade
- Health care
- Domestic and Foreign Litigation and International Arbitrations
- Labor
- Tax
- General Commercial
- Entertainment
- Customs
- International Trade Remedies
- Government Investigations
- Criminal Matters
- Intellectual Property

Dentons Lee understands technology like no other law firm and it uses that understanding and the experience of its seasoned professionals, a team of former judges, prosecutors, senior foreign professionals, supported by a large number of professionals who were former judicial law clerks and advisors to protect and promote the interests of its clients in Korea and abroad.

Additionally, Dentons Lee possesses the legal firepower needed to handle the broad range of legal services entrusted to the firm by the many Korean chaebols and multinational conglomerates who comprise its global Fortune 100 company clients. In 2020, global law firm Dentons and South Korea-based Lee International are forging business partnership to provide legal services under a new name of Dentons Lee.

Your Key Contacts

Asia Pacific

Nicholas Howon Park

Senior Managing Attorney

(Admitted to District of Columbia Bar), Seoul

D +82 2 2262 6013

nicholas.park@dentons.com