

Overview

Romania continues to show tremendous potential despite the economic climate in the Eurozone. On the plus side the growth has been ahead of the European average and the outlook remains reasonably positive, fuelled partly by a skilled workforce as well as European Union funding possibilities. There are some challenges for the banking system, as a result of the downturn the business environment continues to offer a range of opportunities that are best managed by working with a supportive law firm.

Dentons knows the issues and supplies innovative solutions. Capitalizing on one of the leading law practices in Romania, you receive in-depth experience from informed lawyers across all aspects of law.
