

Overview

An increasing number of companies operating in Kazakhstan or seeking to do business in Kazakhstan from the CIS and further abroad now require advisers to have an office with lawyers on the ground in Nur-Sultan.

Located in the capital city of Kazakhstan, Dentons' Nur-Sultan office can help you with construction and real estate, infrastructure and PPP, corporate and commercial matters, as well as M&A. We also offer strong advice through our litigation practice.

In cooperation with our Almaty office and other Dentons offices throughout the CIS, we employ an integrated, multi-office approach that draws on our experience and insight across disciplines and locations to find the best solution for your needs.
