

China Desk in Johannesburg

South Africa's diverse economy, strategic role in Africa and political history create a unique business and regulatory environment for Chinese investors. The China Desk in Johannesburg provides legal services to Chinese companies that have requirements in South Africa or multi-jurisdictional requirements in Africa. South Africa has the largest population of Chinese in Africa and is currently home to over 350 thousand Chinese nationals with 57 different regional Chinese associations present. Chinese state-owned companies, such as Sinosteel, Bank of China, China Construction Bank and other corporations, such as ZTE, Huawei and ICBC, have branch offices in South Africa.

The majority of investments into South Africa are in the construction, mining and energy industries. The China Desk facilitates Chinese work into South Africa by leveraging off its excellent relationships with stakeholders in various sectors and by working closely with its Chinese partners at Dentons.
