

Overview

Dentons' Shanghai office is located in Lujiazui, the city's downtown central business district nestled on the shores of the Huangpu River and home to one of the world's most dramatic skylines. With more than 600 lawyers and professionals, many of whom possess graduate degrees from prestigious colleges in China and abroad, our renowned team has decades of combined experience advising local and multinational clients.

Learn more about Dentons' Shanghai office here

Well-known locally, nationally and globally for providing top-tier legal service and regularly listed in prestigious legal directories, our team in Shanghai has developed a successful track record with leading automotive, manufacturing, energy, retail and leisure companies.

Look to our Shanghai team to find solutions for your business in the areas of:

- Foreign direct investment in China
- Corporate
- Mergers and acquisitions
- Transportation
- Real estate and construction
- Banking and finance
- White collar and government investigations
- Litigation and dispute resolution
- Intellectual property
- Capital markets

Drawing upon deep capabilities from across the entire Firm, Dentons' hard working and enterprising Shanghai lawyers are well positioned to handle complex cross-border and multijurisdictional assignments. Well-equipped to advise clients in the delta region of Yangtze River, in other parts of China or elsewhere in the world, you can trust our Shanghai office to deliver effective business solutions, wherever your business may take you.

Your Key Contacts

Asia Pacific

Summit (Feng) Chen

Office Managing Partner and Member of the Board,
Shanghai

D +86 21 5878 6985

M +86 133 1166 5899

chen.feng@dentons.cn