

Overview

Colombia is Latin America's third largest economy and one of the region's most dynamic markets. Medellín is the second-largest city in Colombia, with a population of over 2.5 million, and the main industrial center of the country, where five out of ten Colombia's biggest companies incorporated and headquartered and with an economy driven by textiles, financial services, food and beverages, infrastructure and commerce.

Rely on Dentons Cardenas & Cardenas' Medellín office, which offers multidisciplinary advice to its clients, focusing on corporate matters, litigation, and dispute resolution (including arbitration), and works in tandem with the Bogotá office to deliver comprehensive legal services and advice in areas including tax, labor, intellectual property, banking and finance and infrastructure.

Whether you are looking to do business in Colombia or seeking to expand outside your borders, benefit from skilled lawyers and professionals based in Colombia and abroad, who are continuously responding to the challenges of an increasingly globalized world, and who are able to service your legal needs wherever your business takes you.
