

Overview

Globally recognized for excellence in banking, commerce and tourism, Panama City is a dynamic financial center anchored by the US dollar. Now with an expanded canal, allowing neo-Panamax ships to travel through the famed waterway, Panama City offers businesses a vibrant economic foundation.

Nearly 80 percent of Panama's gross domestic product is derived from services, including banking, free trade zones, insurance, container shipping ports, ship flagship registry and a globally recognized medical sector. The country's robust agribusiness makes it a leading exporter of bananas, shrimp, sugar and coffee to the US, Canada and Europe, while its manufacturing sectors include aircraft parts, cement products, beverages, adhesives and textiles.

Rely on our Panama City office as your gateway to this important regional hub and take advantage of opportunities with the leading law office in the nation. Benefit from an experienced team that can help you tap into the growing Panamanian economy's vast potential and opportunity. Recognized for managing multijurisdictional transactions, as well as corporate law, banking and finance, capital markets, international trade, taxation and tax planning, our Panama City office is widely respected for our leadership throughout the region.
