

Russia Desk in Washington DC

The members of the Russian desk in Denton's New York and Washington DC offices provide bilingual advice to US companies working and Russia and Russian companies in the US. We have many years of experience dealing with and resolving legal, cultural and political barriers to business going both ways.

The US Russian team provides a full range of services including M&A, corporate structuring, anti-corruption compliance, regulatory, litigation and arbitration, tax, labor and IP. Each of us has lived and worked in the Russian Federation.

We take pride in our commitment and skill in putting together very different systems such that our clients are both protected under the laws where they work and take advantage of the innovations available by US-Russian cross-border transactions.
