

Overview

With a legacy in Scotland dating back to 1871, we are committed to the market and deeply rooted in the community. Our lawyers are intimately familiar with the nuances of doing business in Scotland, and can help you get things done quickly and effectively.

Our Scottish-based team provides cost-effective, UK-wide advice, sharing insights, approaches and ideas with global colleagues to offer clients proven solutions to even the most complex challenges.

As the world's largest law firm, we offer clients more talent in more locations than any other legal services provider. In Scotland you will benefit from the cross-market insights of the 200+ lawyers we have on the ground.
