

Kazakhstan chapter in 2016 edition of Chambers Energy: Oil & Gas Guide

DENTONS

April 13, 2016

Dentons' Energy and Natural Resources team in Almaty has contributed to the 2016 edition of Chambers' Global Practice Guides by providing the Kazakhstan chapter on Oil and Gas.

This cross-section study on oil and gas law covers the following areas:

1. General structure of petroleum ownership and regulation
2. Private investment in petroleum - upstream
3. Private investment in petroleum - downstream
4. Foreign investment
5. Environmental, health and safety (EHS)
6. Miscellaneous

Chambers series of Global Practice Guides contain practical guidance on doing business in key jurisdictions. They use their knowledge of the world's best lawyers to select leading law firms in each jurisdiction to write the "Law & Practice" sections. In addition, the 'Trends & Developments' sections analyze trends and developments in local legal markets.
