

Banking Royal Commission - Litigation

February 6, 2019

What effect will the Royal Commission have on litigation? ASIC's enforcement review is likely to be passed in the last sitting days of parliament and, regardless of which party is elected to government, ASIC will be better equipped to undertake more regulatory enforcement action as called for by the Royal Commission.

In this short video, partner Louise Massey discusses some of the factors that will ultimately give rise to increased litigation for financial institutions.

An error occurred.

Try watching this video on www.youtube.com, or enable JavaScript if it is disabled in your browser.

Watch our first impressions video on the Royal Commission's impact on credit regulation.

Watch our first impressions video on the Royal Commission's impact on SMEs.

Watch our first impressions video on the Royal Commission's impact on industry codes.

Watch our first impressions video on the Royal Commission's impact on home loans and mortgage broking.

Watch our first impressions video on the Royal Commission's impact on culture and governance.

Want more information on the implications for your business?

Contact Louise Massey for further information or to be informed of future events. You can also sign up for our mailing list.

Your Key Contacts

Louise Massey

Partner, Sydney

D +61 2 9931 4959

louise.massey@dentons.com