

“Radio Dentons St. Petersburg” project

March 18, 2020

The world is changing and business must change with it. Today it is very important to follow current events, to carefully consider each step and focus on mitigating all possible risks.

Dentons continues to successfully assist its clients around the world. We are doing everything we can to run our offices and effectively serve clients at a time of new restrictions and general confusion. Dentons is launching the “Radio Dentons St. Petersburg” Telegram channel to make it easier for you to manage the difficulties you are now facing. The project includes periodic alerts and podcasts that will bring together our experience of resolving everyday business issues amid the crisis.

We understand that you are already receiving more information than ever before, from both official and unofficial sources. That’s why we have chosen the convenient format of regular audio issues to communicate with you. This format will give your eyes a rest. In these issues we will share our observations, thoughts, practical recommendations and comments on vital issues with you in a simple and easily understandable form. We hope they will help you navigate the flood of information and will be useful for your business.

The following alerts are now available on the channel:

- Company general meetings.
- The COVID-19 pandemic: Operation of courts restricted.
- The COVID-19 novel coronavirus pandemic as force majeure.
- Data protection during the COVID-19 outbreak.
- Anti-crisis measures to support business.
- Personal data localization in Russia. What does Roskomnadzor want and how is it getting it?
- Government support measures: possible risks.
- Real estate owners and banks: Current realities and forecasts. Self-isolation and social distancing won’t help.
- Organizations operating continuously. Exceptions to the president’s decree.
- COVID-19 and rental.
- Additional support measures for corporate borrowers.
- Fake news in a pandemic.
- Director isolation – how companies work.

- Information systems and extreme necessity.
- Draft RF Government Resolution on sustainable development of the economy.
- Information security in the times of COVID-19.
- FAS vs. Coronavirus.
- Lease in 2020. New rules.
- Bankruptcy moratorium.
- Risks of inability to perform contracts (frustration) due to the pandemic.

The materials are being prepared in Russian to get the information out quickly. If you need an English version or if you're interested in other topics, please contact Olga Karavaeva at olga.karavaeva@dentons.com and we will certainly think of something.
