

COVID-19 – What you missed on your summer vacation and what happens next

DENTONS

September 10, 2020

While you may have taken some time off during the summer, COVID-19 did not.

Masks. Social distancing. Screening. Hot spots (and we're not talking about the temperature).

The summer of 2020 was unlike any other as the world continued its social isolation and embraced a new type of summer vacation.

As we turn our attention to the fall and back to school, employers continue to navigate through a web of uncertainty. To help Canada's employers manage these uncertain times, we are providing an update on some of the most important developments that have occurred over the summer and some guidance on what may happen next.
