

February 28, 2020

With the UK having left the EU on February 1, 2020, EU policymakers responsible for the direction of the Eurozone, Banking Union and Capital Markets Union have all issued their policy and supervisory priorities along with various action plans for 2020 and the decade ahead. Our Eurozone Hub has collated these changes and announcements into a supervisory outlook for 2020. The publication serves as a non-exhaustive “Playbook” for Banking Union supervised institutions and other regulated market participants based in or relocating to the EU and/or the Eurozone.

This “Playbook” is intended to be a resource that complements specific dedicated coverage from our Eurozone Hub on key developments. Financial institutions and other companies may want to refer periodically to this Playbook – regardless of which sector they are active in – especially as a number of priorities and developments have overlapping supervisory aims, expectations and compliance challenges. Readers may also want to consult our 2019 edition.
