

Dentons lawyers author Saudi Arabia Chapter of The Government Procurement Law Review

August 3, 2021

Managing Partner Nick Simpson, along with senior legal consultant John Balouziyeh of our Saudi Arabia corporate practice, provide a review of developments over the last year in government procurement law, along with a look toward future developments in the federal regime.

In addition to coverage of emerging issues, the chapter provides insights on topical areas including:

- scope of procurement regulation
- special contractual form
- the bidding process
- eligibility
- award
- information flow
- challenging awards
- outlook
