

Global Employment Lawyer Quarterly Review

Welcome to the Global Employment Lawyer – a quarterly review of employment and labor developments that impact businesses and employers across the world. Each issue contains an accessible summary of key employment and labor issues across Africa, Asia, Australasia, the Americas and Europe, provided by our global team and tailored to multinational businesses and employers. Stay up to date with developments and be better placed to adapt to a rapidly changing landscape in this

New Dynamic

Showing 1 - 3 of Total Results (3)

Global Employment Lawyer – Issue 3 / 2021

July 2021

Key contacts

Purvis Ghani

Partner, Global Chair
Employment and Labor
Practice,

London

London

D +44 20 7320 6133

M +44 7552 518002

purvis.ghani@dentons.com

Jenny Zhuang

Of Counsel,

Hong Kong

Hong Kong

D +852 2533 3660

jenny.zhuang@dentons.com

In this issue, we provide a brief summary of the key employment and labour law changes that will have an impact on employers around the world. Many of the developments reported in the first two quarters of this year continue to dominate the employment landscape. In our "In Conversation with" feature, we introduce we introduce Joanie Zhang, the leader of our China Region's Labour and Employment Group. We conclude with a round-up of relevant Dentons news and upcoming webinars and events.

Global Employment Lawyer – Issue 2 / 2021

May 2021

In this issue, we provide a brief summary of the key employment and labour law changes that will have an impact on employers around the world. Unsurprisingly, many of the developments reported in the first quarter of this year continue with COVID-19 dominating the employment landscape.

Global Employment Lawyer – Issue 1 / 2021

January 2021

In this issue, we provide a summary of the key employment and labor law changes around the world that will have an impact on employers. Unsurprisingly, many developments relate to furlough, employment subsidies and measures taken to protect employment. We have also included a 'In Conversation with' section where we introduce a member of our team. We end the issue with a round-up of relevant Dentons news and upcoming webinars or events.