Overview

Jane Meyer's practice focuses on representing private equity and SBIC funds in all aspects of their day-to-day business, including the negotiation and drafting of senior, mezzanine and equity financing documents, as well as joint venture agreements among partnering funds and their investment, acquisition and disposition agreements.

Jane has also developed significant experience in structuring follow-on offerings for funds.

As part of her work, Jane typically represents portfolio companies in connection with their general corporate and financial matters, such as employment and separation agreements, equity incentive plans and acquisition agreements.

She has represented clients engaged in a variety of businesses, including construction and building supplies, cosmetics, travel, telecommunications (wireless, radio and cable television), newspaper and other print media and e-commerce.
