Overview

Jeremy is Dentons' Chief Executive Officer for the UK and Middle East (UKME) region and is also a member of the Firm's Global Board and its Global Management Committee. He is part of the global leadership of the Firm and is responsible for implementing Dentons' strategy in the UKME region.

Previously Jeremy was head of the division of our UKMEA region that contains our Corporate and TMT practices. He has served on the UKMEA Regional Board since 2011 and has been a member of the Regional Management Committee since its formation in 2014. Jeremy was co-head of our London Corporate department from 2007-2011.

Jeremy's practice incorporates a wide range of public and private M&A and ECM work. His particular specialist areas include public takeovers, IPOs, equity fundraisings, mergers and demergers, as well as acquisitions, disposals, equity investments and joint ventures. He has worked particularly extensively in the TMT and energy sectors, most of his practice is cross-border and he has led deals in every continent in the world.

Recognition

Jeremy has many times been ranked by Chambers in Band 1 of leading individuals in the UK for mid-market corporate work, and is recognised as being "an M&A star" who is "very straight-talking and highly knowledgeable", "pragmatic" and "very pleasant to deal with."
