Overview

Michelle is a partner in Dentons' tier one ranked People, Reward and Mobility practice in Milton Keynes, and is an experienced employment law specialist. She provides strategic and risk management advice to a wide variety of public and private sector clients, including a number of large household names. Michelle does a lot of work in the retail, manufacturing, energy and transport sectors, advising venture capital clients on the employment aspects of growth and development projects. She regularly supports Dentons' international client base with a variety of cross-jurisdictional projects.

Michelle advises on contentious and non-contentious matters. She has a straightforward and commercial approach, and is highly experienced in the employment aspects of all forms of transactional work, change programs and litigation. Michelle is an expert in large domestic and international TUPE outsourcing exercises and retendering processes. She also focuses on whistleblowing, and complex and high-value litigation, including discrimination and TUPE complaints. Michelle guides employers through a variety of sensitive day-to-day issues with a focus on reputational aspects. She also supports businesses in overseeing significant investigations.

Recognition

Michelle was recognized in the past two editions of Legal 500 as a Rising Star and key lawyer within the Band 1 practice. She is particularly acknowledged for her experience as a specialist in multijurisdictional, transactional and outsourcing matters.

Activities and Affiliations

Community Involvement and Pro Bono

Michelle has a keen interest in diversity issues, participating in women's network events and supporting Dentons' diversity network more broadly as an ally. For a number of years, Michelle has participated in pro bono sessions, enabling young people to find out more about the world of work. Michelle has also assisted primary school children in learning to read through Dentons' reading scheme. She particularly enjoys joining forces with our clients on joint CSR initiatives, as she has done on many occasions in the past.
