

Seraphia Spence

Attorney-at-Law

Attorney-at-Law

Jamaica

D +1 876 332 1000

M +1 876 310 6000

seraphia.spence@dentons.com

Overview

Seraphia Spence is an Attorney-at-Law in Dentons' Jamaica office. She is a member of the Jamaica Bar Association and the Norman Manley Law School Advocacy Society group.

Seraphia brings 17 years of financial services and real estate industry experience in corporate Jamaica. This collective experience has allowed her to develop a strong understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks governing the financial and real estate sectors in Jamaica.

Seraphia has exposure to a range of legal issues related to financial transactions and real estate deals, including regulatory compliance, contract negotiations, due diligence, and risk management.

Recognition

- University of Technology, Faculty of Law 2015/2016: Most Outstanding Student in Administrative Law
- University of Technology, Faculty of Law 2016/2017: Awarded Most Outstanding Student in Equity and Trust
- University of Technology, Faculty of Law 2017/2018, Most Outstanding Student in Labour Law, Intellectual Property Law

Activities and Affiliations

Memberships

- Member, Jamaica Bar Association, 2023 - present

Prior and Present Employment

- Legal Intern, Ideal Finance Corporation

Areas of focus

Practices

- Banking and Finance
- Business Agreements and Commercial Contracts
- Compliance and Risk Management
- Real Estate
- Estate and Trust Administration
- Succession Planning including Business Owners

Region

- Jamaica

Education

- Norman Manley Law School, 2022, Certificate of Legal Education
- University of Technology, University of the West Indies, 2018, Bachelor of Laws (LLB) (Hons)
- Jamaica Institute of Management, 2008, Jamaica Securities Certificate
- University of Technology, 2008, BSC Management Studies (Hons)

Admissions and qualifications

- Jamaica, 2023