

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Litigation: What to do (and what not to do) now, and how to prepare for the future

Date and time:

Start: April 3, 2020, 11:00 AM EDT

End: April 3, 2020, 11:30 AM EDT

Thank you for your interest in Dentons' weekly webinar series on policy and critical issues related to COVID-19 in the US. For those who were able to participate, we hope you found the program clear and informative.

During this interactive discussion, we addressed the impact of orders that are closing courthouses and continuing cases across the country with a particular focus on strategic considerations for litigators and clients during a lull in litigation. We also discussed how clients can identify and mitigate pandemic-related litigation risk. And, we touched on options for clients who may be considering bringing litigation during this uncertain time, including statutes of limitation and tolling. If you were unable to join the program, not to worry—we recorded it.

View the webinar recording

Download the presentation materials

In response to the evolving COVID-19 pandemic, Dentons has a cross-practice COVID-19/Pandemic Client Special Situations Team in the US to help navigate this fast-moving situation, drawing on the full scope of our global legal, policy and innovation capabilities.

Your Key Contacts

Michael J. Duvall

Partner, Los Angeles

D +1 213 892 2818

M +1 314 570 2382

michael.duvall@dentons.com

David C. Quam

Counsel, Washington, DC

D +1 202 496 7220

david.quam@dentons.com

Kelly R. Graf

Senior Managing Associate,
Los Angeles

D +1 213 892 2811

kelly.graf@dentons.com